SUSAN CONROY, author, public speaker and television host

Susan Conroy first journeyed to India between her junior and senior years at Dartmouth College after being inspired by Mother Teresa's efforts there on behalf of the Poorest of the Poor.

She journeyed alone to Calcutta with the dream of helping Mother Teresa to care for the destitute in children's orphanages and in the Home for the Dying.

She developed a friendship with Mother Teresa which lasted throughout the course of eleven years, and her experiences are chronicled in her first book: Mother Teresa's Lessons of Love & Secrets of Sanctity, which was written with Mother Teresa's blessing and approval. It was published in the Spring of 2003.

Susan has made numerous television appearances, for local as well as worldwide audiences. She hosted a 13-part full-season series call "Speaking of Saints" on EWTN, a global television network that reaches over 200 million households worldwide. She welcomed EWTN to Maine to tape a new series about finding Jesus Christ in the world today and thus finding eternal salvation. These new episodes were filmed along the Coast of Maine as well as in view of Maine's tallest peak, Mount Katahdin. It is called "Coming to Christ," and it began airing in the Summer of 2014. Susan was recently asked to host five additional shows about "Coming to Christ" geared to young adults and incorporating young adults in each new episode; it debuted on EWTN in June of 2016.

Susan travels across the United States and to other countries to speak of her experiences, to share our Faith, and to encourage joy-filled service to those who are in need of mercy.

In addition to touring and speaking about Mother Teresa's lesson of love and holiness, Susan translates books from French into English. The most popular of all is the translation of a book written in 1881 about The End of the Present World & the Mysteries of Future Life. This book had a profound influence on the life and spirituality of "the greatest saint of modern times," Saint Therese of Lisieux, a Doctor of the Church. Saint Therese said that reading this book was on of the greatest graces of her life.

Susan has recently published her 8 and 9 books. The first is based on the newest television series and is called Coming to Christ: Resting in His Love. The second is a very personal story about her kind, loving and gentle mother. It is a large coffee-table book titled A Legacy of Love. It contains over 600 family photos and the nearly 500 pages are filled with her parents' own "lessons of love and secrets of sanctity" for family life.

In the Summer of 2016, Susan released a treasure entitled Praying with Mother Teresa, filled with beautiful quotations by Mother Teresa and various saints, some never-before-published photographs of our recently canonized Saint, as well as prayers that Mother Teresa herself prayed.

"I am praying for you that in you and through your works God be glorified."
